

I am writing to voice my concern that business interests are currently attempting to weaken Indiana's Do Not Call Registry. Specifically, The Consumer Bankers Association (CBA) is attempting to impose the federal "established business relationship" exemption on Indiana consumers. The Do Not Call registry has been a godsend to Indiana residents, ensuring their right to privacy, and their right to choose who may call them on the communications lines for which they pay . No business should have the ability to contact individuals who do not wish to be disturbed in the privacy of their home. Please reject this argument and uphold the State of Indiana's right to protect its citizens' individual rights.
